DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The objection of claims 29, 32 and 37 under CFR 1.75(d)(1) is withdrawn.

Applicant cites as support that the term "computer-readable medium" is inherent to the execution of a "computer program or programs."

2. Applicant's arguments, in view of the amendment filed 1/20/09, with respect to claims 1, 31 and 32 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of claims 1-3, 6, 8 and 29-32 has been withdrawn. The claims include previously allowable subject matter and are allowable for the same reasons indicated previously for claim 19.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-3, 6, 10-28, 33-36 and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Supreme Court precedent¹ and recent Federal Circuit decisions² indicate that a statutory "process" under 35 U.S.C. 101 must (1) be tied to another statutory category (such as a particular apparatus), or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing. While the instant claim(s) recite a series of steps or acts to be performed, the claim(s) neither transform underlying subject matter nor positively tie to another statutory category that accomplishes the claimed method steps, and therefore do not qualify as a statutory process. Particularly, the steps of the processes can be performed manually without the use of a particular machine.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 31 and 32 are allowed.
5. Claims 29, 30, 37 and 38 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
